

*To Program Directors and Program Coordinators
From Martha Jordan, GME Administrative Director:*

2021-22 Resident/Fellow and Faculty Surveys: New Reporting Window

The reporting period for the ACGME's annual surveys will now run from February 28, 2022 through April 17, 2022, so that responses can be collected after the projected peak of the Omicron surge. This will provide a reporting period of 7 weeks not significantly reduced from last year's reporting period of 8-1/2 weeks. As the survey results are valued by programs and institutions for their continuous quality improvement efforts, further delay would significantly delay release of the program and comparison data. With a window closing of April 17, we anticipate that programs will still receive their reports in early May.

Please stress to your residents and faculty the importance of completing the ACGME survey. The GME office will be monitoring completion to ensure that all of our programs achieve at least 70% compliance for residents and faculty (our goal is to have 100% compliance for both surveys in all programs). Please make sure that your core faculty lists are accurate in ACGME ADS since they will be the ones required to complete the survey.
