Bio and Event Description

We often hear the saying "If you're not at the table, you're on the menu!" As we move forward in our careers and consider various leadership roles and opportunities, we realize that getting to the table is one journey, and managing your time, skills, and personal contribution to the table is another. Managing brand and leveraging assets in these situations can be particularly challenging for women leaders. Join Wayne Women Lead and Dr. Tonya Matthews as she hosts an interactive workshop to support your "table skills" - from managing your seat at the table to recognizing the table at which you already sit.

Tonya M. Matthews, Ph.D is Associate Provost for Inclusive Workforce Development and Director of the STEM Learning Innovation Center, an interdisciplinary learning center for WSU undergraduate and graduate students, and a hub for WSU K-12 outreach. In this role, Dr. Matthews is part of the WSU leadership team setting a vision to address the challenge of an inclusive STEM student success pipeline and pathway from "PreK-to-Gray".
